COLLEGE

FOUNDED

FOREWORD

Time, that often fleeting but sometimes stationary aspect of life, cannot be captured nor held for long. The days that seem to go so slowly when studies and books are at hand, soon race along when graduation days approach.

Time assumes an even greater importance this year in the history of Bennett College. With the opening of the 1965-66 school year, Bennett saw the enrollment of its first Merit Scholars, the opening of a Programed Learning Laboratory, the inception of a Dean's List, the initiation of a Non-Western Studies Program, and many other things which enriched our college community.

Time is not to be grasped and held but to be made rich with memories, dreams, and fulfillment. The members of the Bennett Belle staff hope to recapture some of the memories, dreams, and fulfillment of this 1965-66 school year.

We express humbly our apologies for any omissions or errors found within, bearing in mind the fact that although perfection is our aim it is often impossible to attain.

To one who has ever been Understanding
Helpful
Concerned
A sincere and devoted instructor
We dedicate
The 1966 Bennett Belle to you,
DR. ROSE KARFIOL

In 1826, under the leadership of David D. Jones, a residential college for women was created from the historic fabric of a co-educational institution founded in 1873.

The college achieved the A rating from the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at a very early period in its history. The college has gained national recognition, holding membership in the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers, the Association of American Colleges and the National Commission on Accrediting.

Bennett College is repeatedly referred to as a campus of singular quality. The buildings, flanking the chapel in a quadrangular fashion, form a setting of relaxed beauty in the spring, and of stalwart dignity in the fall and winter.

The entire campus leads itself to the perpetuation of an atmosphere of culture and refinement which is our heritage.

Faculty and Administration

TRIBUTE TO DR. PLAYER

There is exhilaration in change--the challenge of the untried--cherished most by those who yet have "world enough and time."

The courage to be shut from what can be a "dome more vast" is shared only by frontier spirits who see "time" really as the dimensions of mind and what can be, measured by imagination, as "world enough."

Then and Now color all the fresh days of becoming, invigorating them with vivid experiences and making what is to be a quickening to excellence yet unknown.

The blossoming leader looks ahead, putting by ill-fitting goals, seeking new handicaps that overtop them all, and believing that only one whose "reach exceeds her grasp" can be fundamentally happy. Such a leader takes comfort in finding that friends and colleagues embrace, however reluctantly, the reality that change is forever the reward of growth.

Her friends--those who worked with her in the exacting task of helping young minds to shape new concepts of self--know that all things are possible to the aspirations, the energy and courage that are thrilling in her at this beautiful moment of stepping out and up.

SYMBOLISM IN CHINESE ART

CICADA

As A Symbol in Chinese Art

To hold one's peace in life, like the cicada

In cold weather, is the best practice.

Who would then voice sentiment cicada-like

Among mankind against injustice?

I love your painting, with brush

And ink full of might and main,

Of the changing notes in life -

The whistles of wind and rain!

Shang-Ling Fu

Freely rendered into English by Dr. Shang-Ling Fu, Professor of Sociology and Director of Non-Western Studies, from a Chinese poetry written below,
As one of the illustrations of his lecture, SYMBOLISM IN CHINESE ART, delivered at the Science Assembly, December 15, 1965.

Everything's going my way.

What are you hiding behind that door?

Have you really read all those books?

But, I need the calories!

Only my hairdresser knows.

Going some place?

By golly, I did it!

BATMAN??

Do you realize where you are?

CAMPUS CLIMATE

Who cares about Calories.

Confusion

Who us? cut class???

Girrrr, did you hear

WE DO GET AWAY

Snow witch--which

Cold Cone Queens

Sorry, only 2 Cone Queens this year.

Happy? They're frozen that way.

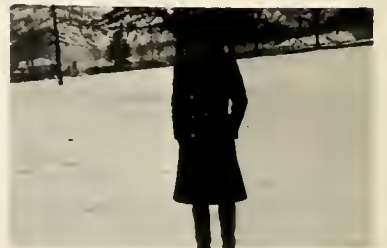

Slippin' and Sliddin'

Snow!! I thought that it was fall out!

There is a clown in every CIRCUS.

But I didn't cut the green.

But, I'm not supposed to point

B. C.'s first line of defense.

I wouldn't ask that if I were you.

Did she say cheese!!

Campus mothers' are like that yeah, they are.

Maybe--

Doing what comes Naturally!!

Searching for my baby.

HOT STUFF!!

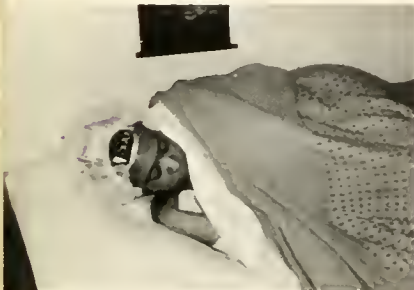

This is talent!!!

Man shortage?

This is talent???

A Clown in every C . . . US

Your plane leaves at 2:
at 2:00 p.m. Miss . . .

Regret

Cheez!!!

It's not too late.

Where are the men?

At your service.

A Go-go girls.

THE WOMAN FROM U.N.C.L.E.

So you're right. It wasn't 1492!!!

Boy, this is life.

Yea--ah

Cold fingers.

Only one sheet?

3 a.m. and 5 hours to go.

Fryer coming . . . but no FOWL.

THE DOMESTICATED ANIMALS

Sorry kid, looks like the honeymoon's over.

Did you tell HIM yet?

Well, fellows I'm ready

All of this for one baby!

Do they teach that at Bennett?

Are you sure that they aren't Twins?
